

A detailed historical illustration of a Native American village. In the center, a large fire burns brightly, with many people gathered around it. The village is enclosed by a high palisade of wooden posts. Several large, arched dwellings with thatched roofs are visible. In the background, there are trees and a few more people. The illustration is in a classic, hand-colored style.

First People

The Early Indians of Virginia

SECOND EDITION

Keith Egloff & Deborah Woodward